MAUL innovations at Paperworld 2019

A visit to MAUL at Paperworld 2019 means many new product ideas to discover, including various lighting products and the mobile whiteboards easy2move. Hot off the press, the two catalogs of the German brand manufacturer provide a compact overview of its some one hundred new products as well as the complete product range.

The Ceiling panels - a completely new product group - are a convenient solution for uniform general lighting. The position in the ceiling in which they are installed is freely selectable and easy to change. Low maintenance costs, state-of-the-art LED technology, energy efficiency class A+ and long service life make the lighting particularly efficient. All MAUL panels are equipped with the technical safety concept Made by MAUL. The 'MAULrise' LED panels come in two sizes, either with installation frames or a hanging set, with 80 or 100 lumens/watts and various driver designs.

The Odenwald based family-owned company will be presenting more than ten further table lamps and free-standing lamps in 2019. This also includes the particularly efficient and design-oriented 'MAULsirius' colour vario and dimmable LED free-standing lamp, which impresses thanks to its movement and daylight sensor technology. The LED light MAULjuvis also offers the same functions with reduced illuminance as an alternative. Both lights are available as free-standing or clamp versions. As the third free-standing lamp, the dimmable MAULjaval is a highly convincing energy-efficient product – just like MAULsirius and MAULjuvis – with efficiency class A+.

Highlights from the field of presentation technology are the new mobile whiteboards easy2move. The extreme portrait format of 1.80 meters offers plenty of room for creativity. The MAUL technology behind it is convincing: hard-wearing steel worktops mounted on a rigid core using a 'sandwich technique', is framed by a sophisticated silver anodized hollow chamber profile. Thanks to the extremely stable frame, the board is robust and easy to move. They fit anywhere where creative work is done: at a desk, in meetings, in variable room concepts or coworking spaces. Two quality levels in two widths each are available: the MAULsolid easy2move as basic model or – for demanding professionals – the MAULpro easy2move.

All of the new products showcase the expertise of the in-house development department as well as the decades of manufacturing experience at MAUL. This means that a standard of functionality and quality is ensured across all areas, and retailers can rely on this.

All new products, a compact program overview and detailed product information can be found in the two new catalogs, which are available from MAUL, Bad König or at www.maul.de Supplementary technical and application information, many pictures and helpful summary tables help you choose the right product.
